

My Parent's Trip

One hot summer day, NaYana (Nuh- yan-uh) is sitting at home the day her parents were supposed to come back. As hours pass by NaYana gets worried. Then the night came around and she decided to call them, but they don't pick up.

The next day, NaYana gets more worried when she tries to call again. Then NaYana began to cry. As her grandmother walked in the room, she asked what was wrong. "Do you know where mom and dad are?" NaYana asked her grandmother sadly. "No sweetie, I thought they were supposed to come back today", her grandmother answered. "Why don't you try to call the cruise captain, they might know something" "Okay, thanks grandma!" NaYana said wiping her tears. After that NaYana went to the computer and looked for the number. When she found the number, she called it. "Hello Mister." NaYana said politely. "Yes." The cruise captain answered. "I wanted to know if there was a Carl and Miyana Gray on that boat" NaYana replied. "No their names are not on the list" "Oh well thanks anyway". NaYana said in a disappointed voice, hanging up the phone.

The phone rang a few minutes later and NaYana rushed to answer it. "Hello!" "Hey NaYana, how's it going" NaYana's friend Kate answered. "Oh, it's just you." NaYana said sadly. "Who were you expecting?" Kate said. "My parents" NaYana answered. "Oh my goodness, what happened?" "It's just that I thought that they were supposed to come back from the trip yesterday." NaYana answered Kate. "How long was your parent's trip?" "I think it was about...6 days." "Hasn't it been about 5 days since your parent's left" Kate suggested. "Yea, it has been. Thanks Kate" NaYana said excitedly. "Bye, I'll call you later." "Okay Bye."

The next day she got up, ate breakfast and began to watch TV. When NaYana heard the door she jumped up and ran to the door. "Hi Mom, hi Dad" NaYana said excitedly. “Hey!” Her parents said. “Can I ask you something?” NaYana asked her parents. “Sure, honey.” “I tried to call you, how come you didn’t pickup?” “Oh, I forgot to charge my phone before I left” Her dad said. “But when I called the cruise captain, he said that you weren’t on the boat” NaYana said. “Maybe you called the wrong boat.” Her mother said. “Oh.” Then she hugged her mom and dad and went to watch TV. Her mom and dad followed after her and gave her a tight hug.

The End